To Whom It May Concern:

It is with great pleasure I write this letter in support of Dr. Daniela Ilieva-Koleva. The team of Junior Achievement Bulgaria and I had the opportunity to attend one of Daniela's seminars on Business Etiquette and International Protocol in Sofia in the summer of 2015. As a speaker, she connected so well with the team, and had such a positive impact on us, that I asked her to consider becoming Junior Achievement's preferred business communications consultant.

BOARD MEMBERS:

Mr. Andon Ichev

General Electric
National Advisor for Bulgaria

Daniela has provided to us group and individual tutoring in the areas of business etiquette, inter-cultural communication, public speaking and presentation skills. Throughout her engagement with Junior Achievement Bulgaria, Daniela kept delivering value to our team in a persistent manner. An excellent planner, her presentation and practical exercises were detailed and well researched. Because of the efforts she invests in the process of preparation and the quality of her execution, Daniela received our team's admiration and gratitude.

Mr. George Randelov

Microsoft Central &
Eastern Europe
CEE Multi Country Public
Sector Lead

The most impressive aspect of Daniela's approach is her ability to instruct in a manner that is tailored to the learning preferences of the consultee. Daniela was able to present specific and practical information on a wide variety of topics while projecting a vibrant presence, a great sense of humor, and maintaining a positive working environment. The whole working process included many practical exercises and really challenged our team to expand our communicational capacities.

Mr. Irvan Hira

HP Bulgaria
General Manager

On a personal note, I thoroughly enjoyed working in collaboration with Daniela. Her attitude and enthusiasm made the whole process a pleasant and memorable experience! I will look back on Daniela's seminars and personal coaching sessions with admiration and gratitude, as she has been very creative, hard working and result-oriented. Daniela is a dedicated professional who is truly passionate about her craft and clients. Any organization or team, looking to expand their communication and negotiation capabilities would do well to consider working with Dr. Daniela Ilieva-Koleva.
